

Go ahead. You're allowed to drool.

On sale NOW! ▶▶

e.g., Sushi in Bucktown

Search

Home | Art & Design | Books | Clubs | Comedy | Dance | Film | Gay & Lesbian | Home & Living | Kids | Museums & Culture

Music | Opera & Classical | Restaurants & Bars | Sex & Dating | Shopping | Spas & Gyms | Sports & Rec | Theater | Travel | TV & DVD

TOC Blog

The Narrator reaches the last page

Published on 4/11/08

It seems a bit arrogant and audacious when a band few have heard of announce a "farewell tour," but The Narrator are in on the joke. The Chicago could've-beens recently...

More posts »

TOC Poll

We want to know what you think. Click here to answer this week's poll question.

Music

★[RATE THIS]★

Bitch & The Exciting Conclusion + Evangelista

Schubas | Find Tickets

3159 N Southport Ave (at Belmont Ave)

Lakeview/Roscoe Village/Wrigleyville, Chicago | Map

773-525-2508

El: Red, Brown, Purple (rush hrs) to Belmont. Bus: 9 Ashland (24hrs), 77 Belmont (24hrs)

| Directions

<http://www.schubas.com/calendar.aspx>

Prices

Tickets: advance $10, day of show $12

Description

Bitch is a totally NYC spoken-word, performance-art vamp. The Exciting Conclusion is both her band and, if you're not on her wavelength, what you'll likely hope for shortly after it starts playing. For Evangelista, see Album reviews.

[\[Skip to user comments\]](#)

When

Apr 10 9pm.

Get 8 free issues!

subscribe now »

Artist Talk | Catherine Sullivan

April 17 • Cochrane Woods Art Center • 5540 S. Greenwood Ave.

Performance | HipHopistan

April 18 • Judd Hall • 5835 S. Kimbark Ave.

Workshop | Chicago Poetry Mini-Symposium

April 19 • Regenstein Library • 1100 E. 57th St.

Exhibition | Black is/Black Ain't

April 20–June 8 • The Renaissance Society • 5811 S. Ellis Ave.